EVENING GROUP NOTES

The Evening Group of the Coleman Red Cross met for the last time on Friday evening.

Although never having a large membership, this group has quite a little work to its credit, which has been reported in the paper from time to time.

For this meeting the ladies met at the home of Mrs. F. H. Graham, where a quilt was completed and some handkerchiefs hemmed.

Following lunch the members presented Mrs. H. H. Gardner with a souvenir spoon as an expression of their appreciation of her work and co-operation.

Grands Defeat Bearcats In Bruising Match

The hockey rivalry between Coleman and Blairmore flared anew on Wednesday as Coleman Grands, on home ice, skated to a bruising 6-3 victory over Blairmore Intermediates. The game, attended by the largest number of fans this season, featured fourteen penalties, a misconduct, a fist fight which saw fans rush on to the ice, high-sticking and some bone shattering body checks, as each team sought supremacy on the ice. Grands' win gave them the league title as Blairmore Intermediates with their remaining games cannot tie the locals.

Cameron School Broken Into Sunday Morning

Books Scattered on Floors; Not Known if Anything Stolen.

Persons as yet unknown entered Cameron school during the early hours of Sunday morning, going into various classrooms and scattering books all over the floors.

Plane Hit Mt. Ptolmey Peak And Burst Into Flame; Three Bodies Found; Believe Crew Perished; Heavy Snowfall Will Hamper Efforts To Bring Out Bodies

A Dakota training plane, similar to above, was found last night in the York Creek area, having crashed into one of the peaks of Mt. Ptolmey. The plane was badly burned and all members of its crew believed killed.

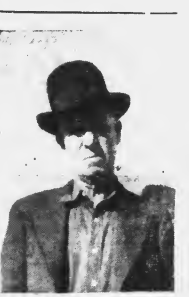

Forest Ranger Harry Boulton, his assistant, Bill Liddell, and his veteran look-out man, Jimmy McElliegett, after 3 days search and tramping over many miles on snowshoes in rugged mountainous regions, discovered the burnt remains of the R.C.A.F. Dakota plane which disappeared in this area on Saturday morning with seven passengers aboard.

The plane was found at the base of Mt. Ptolmey, elevation 9,234 feet, broken and burnt and with three bodies visible in the wreckage. Mt. Ptolmey is the highest mountain in this area and is located at the right branch of York Creek and approximately ten miles from Coleman.

Due to the lateness of the hour, 6 p.m., when the plane was found and the fact that darkness was fast drawing in, the three men made only a light examination of the wreckage and then left for Coleman to report their discovery to the proper authorities.

Interviewed at his home early this morning Forest Ranger Harry Boulton gave the following detailed story of the day's trip:

"Bill Liddell, Jimmy McElliegett and myself set out at 8 a.m. and stopped at Blairmore to ask Sgt. Mudiman, R.C.M.P., if there had been any further developments in regards to the plane. Finding that nothing had been reported we set out in our truck to Ironstone Look Out atop Ironstone mountain. We got within two miles of the Look-Out when stopped by snow and had to get out and put on snowshoes. At first we experienced deep, hard-packed snow which gave way to wind blown ledges and canyons filled with deep snow. Numerous stops were made. Inspection was made of Lyon and Lynk Creek watersheds and we arrived at the Look-Out at 1.10 p.m.

JIMMY MCELLEGETT

After clearing away heavy snow at the Look-Out door we got a fire going and had lunch. We then started a thorough search of the upper slopes of Lyon Creek watershed and also the west slopes of Turtle Mountain with binoculars. After that we devoted our attention to the head waters of Lynk and York Creeks. At that time our old-time look-out man, Jimmy McElliegett, noted a small spiral of smoke rising near the headwaters of the right branch of York

Creek. Knowing that there were no trappers in that vicinity that we were aware of and believing that it might be some of the flyers still alive we immediately made all haste to get to that point before darkness, it now being 2.30 p.m.

Having used up our surplus supplies and having only some rolled oats and tea we started for the base of Mt. Ptolmey, the highest mountain in this area. We arrived near the location of the accident at about 6 p.m., having made very fast time on snowshoes in rough country.

The smoke that had been seen was now no longer visible and we were of the opinion that we had been deceived. However, we felt that a thorough examination of the timber should be made in this valley. While McElliegett and myself prepared a cup of tea, Bill Liddell made an inspection of the remaining portion of the valley on foot. After going about 150 yards from where we were he came upon a portion of the plane. A short distance from that point were the remains of the plane, a burnt wreckage. The remains of three badly burned flyers were seen in the wreckage. The three foresters were rather disappointed at no sign of life about the wreckage. After making an inspection and believing that no one could possibly be alive, we thought best to make all haste back to Coleman and report our discovery to the proper authorities. It was 10:40 when

A CRIPPLING STEEL STRIKE HAS CLOSED DOWN UNITED STATES STEEL INDUSTRY

PITTSBURG.—A crippling strike closed down practically the entire United States steel industry.

The C.I.O. steelworkers staged a mass walkout from coast to coast to back up wage-increase demands. The union said the idle would total 750,000.

The strike was a grim new round in the post-war battle between American business and labor. It forced the closing of fabricating works, refineries and aluminum plants as well as steel-producing works.

Pickets took their places outside the struck plants. Some picketing had started hours before the deadline.

The strike, threatening the post-war productive effort of the United States, eliminated months of fruitless negotiation.

Thousands were sent home as furnaces and open hearths were cooled in prospect for what many fear will be a prolonged shutdown.

No further government attempt to avert the stoppage was in sight. President Truman's recommendation that the dispute be settled on the basis of an 18 1/2 cent hourly wage increase was accepted by the union, but rejected by industry. The union originally sought a 35-cent wage increase. Industry offered 15 cents.

Meanwhile, Henry J. Kaiser accepted Mr. Truman's compromise wage plan in order to keep his California steel plant in operation. Mr. Kaiser agreed to raise wages of 3,000 to 4,000 employees of his Fontana, Calif., works 18 1/2 cents an hour.

A high U.S. government official predicted there would be heavy public pressure for early settlement of the steel industry unless a way is found for quick settlement of the nationwide strike beginning at midnight, DUP reported.

He said that the administration had no plans to force government operation of the steel industry and that President Truman had adopted a "definite policy" of refraining from seizure except in extreme emergency.

But, because of the importance of steel to reconversion, this official thought there will be a strong public demand for seizure.

He based his prediction in part on the assumption that the general reaction would be adverse to the steel industry for its refusal to accept Mr. Truman's proposal.

BARGES FOR NORTH

Will Be Used To Carry Pithblende From Eldorado Mines

MONTREAL.—Start of construction of six special steel barges for the Hudson's Bay company, to be used in Canada's northland where rail transport is unavailable, is to be made immediately in a Trenton, Ont., shipyard (Central Bridge company), it was made known here.

The barges will be utilized to haul pithblende from the world famed Eldorado mines. Pithblende is the source of uranium, important element in atomic energy.

The barges designed by a Montreal naval architectural firm are planned to draw only three feet of water. When completed they will be moved north in four sections, portaged over several miles of un-navigable territory and assembled by electric welding on Great Bear Lake.

HERBERT MORRISON SAYS CANADA DEVELOPED GREATLY DURING THE YEARS OF WAR

LONDON.—Herbert Morrison, government leader in the House of Commons and lord president of the council, in his return from a visit to Canada and the United States, expressed gratification at being able "to say with truth that in spirit, in outlook and in aim there is no difference between the peoples of these three nations."

"There are differences in outlook between Britain, Canada and the United States on a number of questions of internal policy, but in their aim, their spirit and their purpose there is a fundamental unity between the three great countries," Mr. Morrison continued.

The cabinet minister arrived by air at Northolt, Middlesex, after making his first trans-Atlantic flight from Baltimore to Rineanna, Eire.

Of Canada he said: "Canada plays an exceedingly valuable part in interpreting the British to the Americans and the Americans to the British."

"My impression of Canada is that she has developed greatly during the war period. She made a great war effort both in men and economically, and she emerged from the war

USING FAMOUS PARK

Potatoes And Vegetables Must Be Grown By Berlin Citizens

BERLIN.—The entire Tiergarten, Berlin's famous downtown park, is to become a huge potato patch, to be the Germans in a "dig-for-existence" program to be launched in the British sector here.

A critical shortage of potatoes is anticipated after the middle of February and the potato-park project is only one of the schemes by which the British occupation command hopes to meet the situation.

Every householder with space for a garden will be required by law to grow vegetables. Seed and fertilizer will be sold at nominal prices and seeding will begin in the spring. British authorities have ordered several factories to produce garden tools from scrap.

The grounds of the Kaiser's old palace near the Tiergarten also will become a huge vegetable garden as will hundreds of acres of other city parks and vacant lots.

The Tiergarten and other large areas will be farmed out as allotments, each expected to grow one year's supply of potatoes for one person. Already 20,000 allotments have been handed out and the number will be increased by 30,000.

NOT YET DECIDED

But Some Controls Necessary For Civilians Using Alaska Highway

EDMONTON.—The controls of which civilians will be subject when they travel on the Alaska highway have not yet been decided and a survey is to be made within a few months to determine future control and general conditions on the road, Brig. G. A. Walsh said.

Brig. Walsh, new commander and chief engineer designate of the north-west highway system, arrived here for conversations with various officials preliminary to the Canadian government's taking over the Alaska Highway April 1.

Brig. Walsh's headquarters will be in Whitehorse.

NEW PROBLEMS

Canadian-American Defence Board Has Many Things To Discuss

QUEBEC.—The permanent joint Canadian-American defence board, set up early in the war to map strategic defence plans for North America against the threat of foreign invasion, has turned to reconversion problems and its present task was defined as "unseparating the eggs".

The definition came from volonte Fiorella Laguardia, former mayor of New York city and head of the American delegation to the board, who arrived by air for the board's second meeting.

New problems confronting the board deal with interim forces and eventual peace-time establishments of the armed services.

IMPORTING POTATOES

OTTAWA.—Canadian potato supplies will be supplemented by imports of size "B" potatoes from the United States, assuring consumers in this country of a "reasonably adequate" supply, the prices board announced.

The gasoline used by one Superfort to travel from the Marianas to Tokyo and back would have kept the average motorist in fuel for 10 years.

VIENNA.—The newspaper Neues Oesterreich said that Dr. Friedrich Berbus, noted organic chemist and 1933 Nobel prize winner, has developed a method of producing artificial meat from wood shavings.

The newspaper said steps already have been taken to finance manufacture of the new product.

The new foodstuff, made in the form of an oatmeal suitable for soups and gravies, has the same caloric value as meat, and the same fat and albumen content, the article added.

TROOPS NEEDED

Churchill Hopes United States Will Keep Army In Europe

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, said in an interview soon after arriving here that he hopes United States troops "are not all going home because we are not numerous enough to handle post-war Europe alone."

"The armies have to be kept in the field in order that all the work we have done to achieve victory will not be destroyed," said Mr. Churchill.

OTTAWA.—Lt.-Col. P. Donahue, assistant military attache at the Soviet embassy in Ottawa has accepted the invitation of the national defence department to take part in "operation Muskox", the Canadian army's expedition to the Arctic, from Port Churchill, Man., on Feb. 14, it was disclosed here.

This was made known officially by the office of the Soviet military attache in Ottawa. Col. N. Zabolot, military attache, was also invited, it was stated, but will not attend. Lt.-Col. Donahue will be accompanied by a secretary.

While the department declined to furnish any information as to invitations issued for the opening of the Muskox expedition, it was understood that the military attaches of all foreign diplomatic missions in Canada had been invited and that several have accepted.

VALUABLE DOG

Trained By Royal Canadian Mounted Police Does Special Work

BRANTFORD, Ont.—Just say "woof" to him and Duke, one of 11 dogs trained by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for special jobs, is off like a shot on a hunch hunt that generally gets results.

The five-year-old Alsatian, specially trained by Constable J. L. Thomson to locate caches of moonshine, lists among his more spectacular sleuthing chores the recovery of a large hoard of "moonshine mash" in a cave near Hamilton.

Duke has also: Tracked escaped prisoners of war; captured a youth who tried to derail a train; located a runaway Indian who wandered from home; found a watch lost by a constable who received the timepiece as a present from his wife.

WORLD POLICE FORCE

A Plan Brought To London By Americans

LONDON.—A plan that United States forces assigned to the United Nations "world police force" be scattered geographically has been brought to London by American representatives, informed sources said.

American troops thus would be within reach of any spot where the world force might be called on to put down aggression.

Many details of the plan still are under consideration, these sources said, with the work being kept secret pending negotiations with other members of the United Nations military staff committee—Britain, Russia, France and China.

NEW AIR RECORD

Vancouver To Ottawa Trip Took Little Over Seven Hours

OTTAWA.—A Flying Fortress of the Royal Canadian Air Force No. 108 trans-Atlantic mail squadron knocked three hours and 26 minutes off the previous record for transport aircraft flying from Vancouver to Ottawa, a distance of 2,389 miles. The aircraft was piloted by Air Vice-Marshal J. L. Plant, of Ottawa and Vancouver.

The flight was made in seven hours and 26 minutes, at an average speed of 305-miles-an-hour.

UNITED NATIONS EXPENSES

LONDON.—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, of Britain, told the United Nations Organization general assembly that the yearly cost of the UNO to all 51 member countries would be less than half the amount of money spent by the United Kingdom in a single day in the war just ended.

FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

OTTAWA.—More than 20,000 Canadian veterans were receiving grants in December for higher education, veterans Minister Mackenzie announced. A total of $2,889,411 was paid in allowances during that month to 49,956 former service men and women.

OTTAWA.—The economic committee of the Dominion-provincial conference has just concluded its sessions here and a statement issued by Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of health and welfare, recites that the following subjects were dealt with:

A review of the Dominion government proposals which were designed to expand development and conservation of Canadian natural resources, and to provide employment when that should be necessary.

Discussion of the Dominion's proposed health program.

Effect of the financial proposals of the Dominion.

Effect of the alternative proposals on the projections of Dominion and provincial budgets.

In the latter condition, the governments of Ontario and Saskatchewan both filed proposals and the other provinces other material. Their officials answered questions of a factual and technical nature of all which were discussed in a "frank and constructive spirit."

The sessions were confidential since the terms of reference to the committee provided that its function was to be fact-finding, discussing economic factors affecting the Dominion and provincial proposals and relations, but neither empowered to make policy commitments nor to report as a collective body.

At the meetings between Dec. 4 and 14 the committee examined the financial proposals in the light of the budgets and other material submitted by the various provinces. The health insurance, old age pensions and unemployment assistance programs of the Dominion were also examined and discussed.

The co-ordinating committee will meet on Jan. 28 and the representatives of each government are now returning to report to their respective provincial governments. The clarification of detail at the technical level which has been achieved.

TO BUY FISHING BOATS

MONTREAL.—Norwegian fishermen plan to purchase fishing boats in Canada to replace those lost during the war, the Norwegian information office here said. The fishermen, all members of pre-war firms, plan to unite and purchase the trawlers on a co-operative basis.

WASHINGTON.—The United States' reserve supply of wheat may be reduced this year to the lowest level since 1938 due to a heavy export demand, the agriculture department said in a report that the world needs for the bread grain considerably exceed available supply in principal exporting countries.

The department said American reserves may be reduced below 200,000,000 bushels by July 1, the beginning of the marketing season for the 1946 wheat crop. The reserve, or carryover supply last July 1 was 281,000,000 bushels. The size of the reserve next July will be determined in large measure, the department said, by willingness of farmers to sell what they now hold, and upon the quantities exported. Half of the national supply on Jan. 1 remained in the hands of the farmers.

The department said the reserve would be cut below 200,000,000 bushels if exports during the January-June period equaled or exceeded the amount shipped overseas during the last July-December period. Exports in the latter period were said to have been between 165,000,000 and 175,000,000 bushels.

Importing countries, the department said, would take as much as 225,000,000 bushels during the first half of this year if that amount were available.

The department said that if export requirements are met, it would be necessary to draw heavily upon inland stocks.

To meet export demands it also will be necessary, the department said, to use more freight cars and locomotives and also to have a minimum of loss of time from labor and other difficulties.

Prospects now point to another bumper crop this year. But supplies are likely to be so plentiful that the department indicated, to permit exports of more than 200,000,000 bushels between July 1, 1946, and the same date in 1947. Export demands from the 1946 crop, however, are expected to be smaller. Europe, now in the market for immense quantities, is expected to increase its production this year and to be in the market for a smaller volume of imports.

Plane Hit

we finally arrived home." The discovery was made known to the R.C.M.P. who with officers of the R.C.A.F. and army came to Mr. Boulton's home and secured all detail.

A party of twelve men consisting of soldiers, airmen and three forest men, left Coleman at 9 a.m. to-day for York Creek from where they will travel by snow shoe to the scene of the accident. The dead flyers will be brought out by toboggan as no vehicle can penetrate the rugged country.

Forest Ranger Boulton, after studying the location of the wreckage gave his opinion that the flyers had crashed into the highest peak of Mt. Ptolmey, it having two peaks. The front of the plane appeared to have been ripped off and the plane itself had appeared to spiral downward approximately 4,000 feet of a precipice. The base of the mountain rises 6,000 feet. It had then burst into fire. The peak it hit can be plainly seen from No. 3 highway, stated Mr. Boulton, and looks across Hillcrest.

Credit for the discovery is given Mr. Elliegett by both Mr. Boulton and Mr. Liddell. It was his sharp eyes that first discovered the smoke. That no smoke was found near the plane is credited by Mr. Liddell as having been due to drifting snow having extinguished it while they were tramping towards the plane.

It is believed that five minutes would have taken the plane out of the high mountain ranges and placed it over flat prairie land. It was only approximately 70 airline miles from Lethbridge, its first scheduled stop.

Western Air Command announced personnel aboard the plane were FO R. H. Watt, pilot, Winnipeg; FO W. J. Woods, Winnipeg; Ft. Lt. W. J. Sealey, White Rock, BC; FO J. L. Norris, Chilliwack, BC; Sgt. V. R. Ducklow, New Westminster, BC; LAC Dan Lavy, Toronto, and LAC R. B. Rowe, Ottawa.

In the Congo Caves of South Africa are found lime stones that can float. A body will float if the weight of the water it displaces when totally emerged is heavier than the weight of the body itself. These lime-stones are of this category.

PLAN TO RE-OPEN PRINCE OF WALES HOTEL AT WATERTON

It is planned to re-open the Prince of Wales hotel at Waterton Lakes National Park this coming summer. This beautiful hotel has

Scholars multiply —so must schools

A SCHOOL is itself a problem in mathematics. When a new settlement grows up or an old one expands, someone has to do some figuring. The money has to be found for that little new school-house or that added wing to a high school crowded to the corridors.

The municipal bonds which finance the building of schools, hospitals, water-works, hydro plants, and other community projects which contribute to our national health and enlightenment, are financed to a large extent from Life Insurance funds.

Dollars you have paid in as Life Insurance premiums may already have returned to your community. Everywhere you turn this great co-operative fund is being employed in socially useful enterprises.

Of every dollar invested out of Life Insurance funds, a substantial portion goes into the solid, progressive development of Canadian communities. Other investments include government bonds, public and industrial securities, farm and home mortgages, etc. This money, representing the thrift of the nation, creates a never-ending cycle of jobs far and wide, as well as safeguarding the future security of four million policyholders and their families.

SALVATION ARMY NATIONAL SPIRITUAL CAMPAIGN

The Salvation Army has launched a national campaign—not a campaign for money, food or clothing, or any other material gains, but a national "spiritual" campaign.
Coleman is not behind the other centres of operation, but is very much alive. The week of Jan. 27 to Feb. 3 will be observed with special meetings each night conducted by Adjutant D. Richardson and Pastor Evangelist Alfred Siple, both of Fernie. Adjutant Richardson, stationed at Fernie, will be speaking here on Sunday and Monday, Jan. 27 and 28. Mr. Siple, who holds an appointment at the Olivet Baptist church in Fernie, will be arriving on Tuesday and will be conducting meetings each night until Sunday, Feb. 3.

Mr. Siple is well known in the Pass, having for a number of years taken services at the Bellevue Mission and Fincher Creek. He has travelled the country widely and is a man of much experience. His conversion took place at Fort St. John's.

Adjutant Richardson is well known throughout western Canada. The adjutant entered the Salvation Army training college at Winnipeg and has held many appointments in western Canada, including North Battleford and Regina.

These meetings are public. Keep this week open that you might have the privilege of hearing these specials.

LOSING DOLLARS BY PINCHING PENNIES

Poor roads cost money. They delay business, with inevitable loss; they keep farmers at home when they want to get to market; they increase the cost per mile of cars and trucks; wear out tires faster, and increase expense for repairs. They keep out millions of dollars of tourist business that would benefit every business, every service, every farmer in the province. All together we lose far more than would pay for a modern system of highways and good secondary roads, that would increase our own comfort, convenience and pleasure in travelling.

The Alberta Department of Public Works has planned a 10-year road building program for Alberta. It is urgently needed and there should be no delay in putting it into effect. Let your provincial member know that you are in favor of it. Ask your friends and clubs and organizations to do likewise. Press for action—now.

The Alberta Motor Association has been insistent in its demands for a modern highway system for Alberta. Get behind it by becoming a member. You can enjoy all the privileges and services that go with an A.M.A. membership for only $10 a year.

Health LEAGUE presents CANADA TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

INQUESTS ASKED IN DIPHTHERIA DEATHS

Recent statement of Maj.-Gen. Brock Chisholm, Deputy Minister of National Health, that any danger from diphtheria is "in the ignorance and superstition which prevents parents from giving children the protection of toxoid treatment," has drawn support from prominent officials of the Health League of Canada.

Dr. Nelles Silverthorne, chairman of the League's National Immunization Committee, said the truth of Gen. Chisholm's statement was borne out by the fact that of the seven children who died during the current diphtheria outbreak in Ottawa, not one had been immunized.

"This tragic evidence alone proves the value of toxoid," Dr. Silverthorne said. "It is beyond comprehension why parents neglect to have their children given harmless toxoid protection when such protection is so easily obtainable in Canada today."

"It's too bad that it takes an epidemic to make people realize the truth," he said in commenting on the fact that attendance at Ottawa's clinics for toxoid injections has increased more than 300 per cent. since the outbreak's start.

Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the League, said he agrees with Gen. Chisholm that vigorous action is necessary. "I trust that the 'Health Week' February 2nd to 9th will do much to draw to the attention of all Canadians the fact that much disease is needless preventable. For instance, universal use of toxoid will wipe out diphtheria. National Immunization Week last fall called attention to the known facts, but still there are thousands of parents who have been too indifferent to act."

"If parents, knowing the facts, are still too indifferent and careless to protect their children by having them toxoided, the time may come when such parents may be held responsible. I suggest a further step in the case of diphtheria deaths might serve to awaken the public conscience."

Dr. Bates remarked that Health Minister Jose E. Andren of Cuba recently ordered that protection against diphtheria for all children under eight years of age be made compulsory. "Apparently that is what we need in this country," he said.

STILL CONTRIBUTING

Conscientious objectors are continuing to make contributions to the Red Cross from their earnings and will continue to do so until the majority of Canada's overseas forces have returned, Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor, said.

Some 8,000 of Canada's 8,200 objectors are engaged in farm work and from their earnings more than $1,000,000 has been contributed to the Red Cross.

Seamen's Comforts

Daughters Of The Empire Have Performed A Wonderful Service For Crews Of Ships

During the war years, the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire provided comforts and amenities to British, Canadian and Allied Seamen valued at nearly one million dollars according to Mrs. H. S. Angus, National War Service Convener. This assistance has been given in various ways. Thousands of games and puzzles, millions of magazines, over a million new and donated books have been provided through the Order for seamen in hostels, hospitals, the naval libraries and ships.

It is of interest to note that not only have books in English and French been given, but to meet requests of Dutch, Polish, Norwegian and Greek seamen who put into Canadian ports, for books in their own language, appeals were made by the Order in the United States and Canada for these books which when received were placed on the ships.

At the request of the Department of Naval Services, I.O.D.E. Chapters "adopted" a total of 249 ships and provided thousands of dollars worth of amenities and extras for the crews of these adopted ships.

An extract of a letter received from a man on one of our corvettes reads: "Everything we have ever had given to us or done for us seems to be connected with the I.O.D.E. in some way or other."

I.O.D.E. members have also rendered help to shipwrecked seamen's hostels in Canada and abroad, and in past ten years have supplied large numbers of ditty bags which were distributed by the Navy League of Canada.

In addition, comforts have been provided in both Canadian and British ports, the I.O.D.E. operating distribution depots at Saint John, N.B. and Sydney, N.S., and according to the Special Services Officer of the Royal Canadian Navy, the I.O.D.E. was the chief source of supply of knitted comforts for seamen distributed by Naval Distributing Centres at Halifax and other Canadian ports.

Since the beginning of the war a constant flow of comforts has been sent for sailors of the Navy and seamen of the Merchant Navy in Britain. The organizations receiving I.O.D.E. comforts for distribution there were the Royal National Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen, the British Sailors' Society, and the Depot for Knitted Garments for the Royal Navy. Although the latter depot has been closed recently, shipments of seamen's comforts are still being sent to the British Sailors' Society, both organizations which aid seamen in peace as well as in war, one of them having been in operation for over 100 years.

Owing to the extreme shortage of clothing in Britain, it has been, and still is, very difficult for relatives and friends to provide the necessary seamen's comforts without continued help from Canada. The help the I.O.D.E. members have been more than happy to give in the past and will continue to give as long as it is needed.

German Steel

Germany Is To Be Allowed To Produce 7,500,000 Tons A Year

Germany is to be allowed a maximum steel production capacity of 7,500,000 tons a year but her actual output must not exceed 5,000,000 tons without specific approval, the Allied Control Council decided. The steel plants to be left to Germany shall be the older ones as far as practicable, it was agreed. Germany's steel production in 1919 was 11,000,000 tons, which had doubled by 1938 under the Nazi government.

CAN ALWAYS SNOW

Contrary to popular belief, it is never too cold to snow. Sub-zero temperature, however, seldom holds enough moisture for the snow to fall in flakes. Then the fall is fine and dust-like.

Gripholm Model Was Their Wedding Present

ALTAIR BOUND, MELT RED TAPE—"It can't be done," everyone said. So Pte. Francis Joseph Yanehus of Guelph, Ont., did it. Honorably discharged from the R.C.A.M. in September, he returned to Italy as a civilian, married the daughter of an Italian count, and returned in time to spend Christmas at Guelph—with his bride! Officials half-way around the world are still gathering bits of red tape, thrown to the four winds by the determined couple. "Frank" met his bride-to-be, Lina Ragusa, while serving with an army hospital unit in Italy. He proposed marriage, was accepted. Col. F. B. Bowman, of Hamilton, Ont., his commanding officer, absolutely forbade the marriage. A determined young man, Frank wrote to Ottawa—over the colonel's head. In April, 1945—a year later—permission to wed the Italian miss arrived. Frank had been sent to England four days before, was sent back to Canada and honorably discharged. On September 15 he managed to wangle a permit to leave Canada, persuaded a high official in Washington to aid him get passage, and when the Gripholm left New York Oct. 16, Frank was aboard. Bishop Pietro Gagnor personally officiated in Caserta cathedral. Among the guests were 700 townspeople, all of whom had firmly believed Lina would never see her Canadian fiancé again.

Played Major Part Veteran Repair Squad

A Long-Distance Detection Device Helped Win Battle Of Atlantic

The United States Navy disclosed the wartime secret of "Huff Duff," an electronic long-distance device which played a major part in winning the battle of the Atlantic. Technically called high frequency direction finder (the initials HFD-F), it rapidly became "Huff Duff" in service slang. The electrical "finger" can spot a ship or plane half-way around the world. It was used as a team-mate of radar and sound devices which spot objectives at a much shorter distance.

The navy told how the device on board ships, planes and in a network of shore stations succeeded in breaking up U-boat wolf packs before they could assemble and how at least one of the submarines which landed saboteurs on the Long Island and Florida coasts in 1942 was located and sunk before it could escape.

Members Of London Club Repaired Building After Three Raids

When a hall was severely damaged by enemy action, Priory Park Philosophers, a Horsey Social Club, whose ages ranged from 62 to 90, carried out their own repairs, reports the Evening News, London. When they finished, the building was wrecked a second time, but they took even this philosophically and put the place in order again. A rocket finally did more damage than the other two bombs put together and the work of repairing the building has taken considerably longer. The veteran repair squad has now completed its self-appointed task for the third time and are planning a victory celebration in the renovated building. "We have had to repair the roof, the walls, the fittings and the furniture, to say nothing of replacing the windows," said Councillor A. J. Blake, the 74-year-old secretary.

LUNCHEON LYRICS. There'll be treats galore in the lunchboxes this Winter if you have all your surprises on Bran Nut Bread. This delicious easy-to-make bread can be varied to suit your tastes: fold in any of the dried fruits, or orange juice. And occasionally, vary the shape by making muffins instead of a loaf. Here's an idea for dressing Bran Nut Bread in party fashion: make the basic recipe, then fold in gumdrops in place of fruit!

Bran Nut Bread

Ingredients:
1 egg
5 1/2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
5 1/2 cups chopped nuts
3/4 cup bran
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder

Beat egg and sugar until light. Add milk, shortening and bran. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; combine with nutmeats; add to first mixture, stirring only until flour disappears. Spread in greased loaf pan, with waxed paper in the bottom. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Variations of Basic Recipe:
1. Use 1/2 cup nutmeats and add 1 cup seedless raisins.
2. Use 1/2 cup nutmeats and add 1 cup chopped dates.
3. Use 1/2 cup nutmeats and add 1 cup chopped dried figs.
4. Substitute 1/2 cup orange juice and 1/2 cup water for the 1 cup milk. Add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind.

Note: Nutmeats may be omitted in first three variations if desired.

REG-LAR FELLERS—Interior Decoration

A Coveted Honor

British Order Of Merit Is Given To Few People

One of Britain's most coveted honors, the Order of Merit is conferred for outstanding achievement. No more than 24 persons may be named to the order at one time. At present only 20 persons may add the initials O.M. to their name, among them General Eisenhower. When Britain's press announced a few weeks ago that King George VI had bestowed the Order of Merit on Professor A. N. Whitehead, eminent mathematician, physicist, philosopher and lecturer at Cambridge University, England, and Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., the man in the street was more impressed than if the Professor had been made a knight, comments "Britain". The Order of Merit is unlike any other honor which may be conferred on a British citizen. For one thing, it carries no title and confers no precedence; its possessor has no extra privileges whatever. Instituted in 1902 by King Edward VII, the Order is presented to such persons "as may have rendered exceptionally meritorious service in the Crown Services of our Empire or have rendered exceptionally meritorious services towards the advancement of the Arts, Learning, Literature and Science."

In fact to receive it a person must have given such service to Britain in one or more of these spheres that no other honor meets his case.

LOSS HAVEST

The greatest recorded loss of life by shipwreck was in the sinking of the French cruiser Provence, Feb. 26, 1916, in the Mediterranean. Of the 4,000 aboard, only 870 were saved.

Birds of prey usually wear "pendant-lenses". These feathered pants confuse the prey at which the bird is striking with its feet.

Souvenir German Helmet Concealed On This Could Be Rommel's

Three-year-old Bruce Perloff, Philadelphia, toying with the German helmet he'd been given as a souvenir, pulled off a strap and uncovered a secret message possibly despatched by the late commander of the German Africa Corps, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

"Look, Mommy," Bruce told his 20-year-old mother, Edith. She saw a three-by-five scrap of tattered paper marked "Important Despatch".

On one side of the paper she found the words, partly illegible because of wear and tear: Joseph Seidforth, commanding officer, 551st Tank Reserve, Afrika Corps, and then in German: "Nicht offendend," which in English means "Do not open."

Under these words was drawn a crude swastika.

On the other side, it said in English: "Repel British counter-attack at . . ." But there the paper was torn. Under the tear the words "El Alamein" appear.

In one place the paper says "If retreat is necessary, the next defence line is at . . ." And again the paper is worn through.

At the bottom of the page, two initials, E. R., are marked in heavily and beside them is a swastika.

RED PAINT

THE blazing sun shocked the air into rippling waves of heat that shimmered over the inert forms of horses and cattle, and emphasized the starkness of Ed Higgins' bare, unpainted barn, rising in ugly contrast behind the neat little bungalow, with its bright green paint and white trimmings, that his wife called "home."

From behind her spotlessly curtained kitchen window Marty Higgins gazed outside. Her thin face looked drawn, but her cotton dress was as fresh as her polished kitchen. She shook her head at the memory of Doc's parting words that morning.

"I've done all I can, Marty," he'd said. "If Ed, won't fight for himself."

"I can't understand his giving in so easy." There was more disappointment than sorrow in Marty's voice. "Stubborn old fool, he gave me enough trouble any time I wanted him to do anything, good or bad, and now to let pneumonia down him without a fight!"

The brown circle beside her raised questioning eyes. He cocked one ear expectantly toward the doorway behind which Ed lay, his sunken cheeks under their unkempt whiskers mute evidence of the rav-

Successful Stomach Remedy

Dr. McLeod's Stomachic has brought lasting relief to many obstinate cases of stomach trouble. Give it a chance to help you. Dr. D. D. McNeill, West Lorne, Ont., states: "I have experienced terrible gnawing pains below the breastbone a few hours after eating, causing gas and bloating. My only relief was soda, and that for a short time only. Then I took Dr. McLeod's Stomachic. After three bottles I was free from pain. I kept on improving and have now been well for several years, enjoying my meals without the aid of any medicine."

Dr. McLeod's Stomachic is useful in overcoming sour stomach, gas, bloating, heartburn, and other forms of indigestion. It is especially helpful for pain coming a few hours after eating and usual indigestion.

out an order. They've got that nice bright red like the Smiths'."

"Over my dead body!" Marty smiled a little at the near-possibility of that picture. "Whatever gave you the idea that I'd leave you to run the place to suit yourself? Red paint, on my barns—" Ed lay back, his sunken eyes flashing.

MARTY retreated to the kitchen. There was a sudden brightness in her eyes. Rusty stopped a moment to lick the pale face of his invalid master before following. Ed's voice, rising in angry protest against the added indignity, convinced him that life was again assuming its normal proportions.

"Red paint—draw you, dog! Marty, bring me an egg-nog or something. Red paint! Time I got up to see that them barns are painted a respectable color—hurry up, I'm hungry—Red paint, trust you!"

"Red paint!" Marty echoed thoughtfully. "Rusty, looks like we've won a double-header this time. Hold your horses, I'm coming."

SMILE AWHILE

The old lady kept to her seat determinedly as the slowly moving congregation passed down the aisle to the church door.

"If everybody else would only do as I do, and stay quietly in their seats until everyone has left," she murmured, "there wouldn't be such a crush at the doors."

"Well, sir, what's the trouble?" asked the doctor of the patient who had called for him urgently.

"That's for you to find out," the patient answered grumpily.

"In that case I'll call in a friend of mine. He's a vet," answered the doctor. "He's the only man I know who can make a diagnosis without asking questions."

"Teacher said this morning, mummy. Hands up, all these children who had an egg for breakfast."

"So I put my hand up because I was going to have one for tea."

"Mrs. Newwood," "Henry, I thought you told me that your bank loaned money on notes."

Mr. Newwood: "So it does, dear. Why?"

"Mrs. Newwood: 'Well, it doesn't. I sent the maid down there with a note telling them I wanted to borrow $100 and they wouldn't lend me a cent.'"

Old Brown: "During his grand-daughter: 'I never see a bluish on a girl's face now. In my day it was very different.'"

Flapper: "Why, Grandad, what did you say to them?"

Husband: "Darling, I believe that I am failing."

Wife: (in alarm): "Gracious! How often have I warned you, George, against your foolish speculations."

"Husband: 'I don't mean in business, dear. I mean I'm failing in health.'"

Wife (relieved): "Oh, is that all?"

"Pop, if I saved you a dollar, would you give me 50 cents of it?"

"Yes, I guess so, son."

"Well, I saved it for you. You told me you would give me a dollar if I passed in arithmetic, and I didn't pass."

Railroad Safety

Number Of Wrecks In Central States Is Cause Of Concern

The number of railroad wrecks (in the U.S.) brings rail safety to the fore as a subject of public concern.

The causes have been various. Back of all of them, no doubt, is the strain imposed on old equipment and insufficient manpower by military demobilization plus a big load of domestic freight and civilian travel.

But these conditions are not an excuse for a breakdown in safety. They merely impose an obligation to take extra care.

If the railroads would make use of known methods of communication and signalling, there ought never to be another collision. It is possible to communicate by radio both ways between trains and dispatchers, or from train to train.

Moreover, there is such a thing in the world as radar. If such a device can penetrate the clouds to locate a hostile airplane or a ground target, it must be possible to use it to show an engineer whether there's another train on the track ahead of him—Chicago Daily News.

WANTS EAGLE FEATHERS

Canada's west is still wild and woolly—at least one resident of Albuquerque, New Mexico, thinks so. Bernice Urland of Albuquerque has requested the Winnipeg Board of Trade to send her eagle feathers, animal claws and teeth of "various wild animals." The Board is sorry it will be unable to do so. They reviewed the situation and discovered there are few, if any, eagles in Western Canada. There also seems to be a dearth of wild animal teeth.

Never Too Late

English Farm Worker At 83 Has Learned To Read

All his long life John Mullinger, of Spalding, Lincolnshire, had got along without being able to read.

As a farm worker at Holbeach, Bank, near Spalding, he started work when he was nine—John did not have much time for books or papers.

But when the war started and the raids made it quite a personal affair for old John, he decided he'd better learn to read so that he could keep abreast of the things.

Now, at 83, John has learned to read—and he devours all the newspapers.

Milkweed floss helped win the war. It was used to give buoyancy to naval life preservers.
